For Your Information

PARISH SUPPORT

Due to the holiday printing deadline, the parish support for June 30th and July 7th will be printed in next weekend's bulletin. This weekend's second offering is the monthly offering for July. As always, thank you for your continued generosity.

SANCTUARY LAMP

This week's sanctuary lamp at St. Francis Church burns in memory of Karen Davis and Mavis Phalen.

LISTENING CREATES A HOLY SILENCE...

When you listen generously to people they can hear the truth in themselves, often for the first time. And when you listen deeply, you can know yourself in everyone. ~ Rachel Remen

ST FRANCIS CEMETERY

Gatekeepers needed! If you'd like to help us out and open/close the Cemetery gate one morning/evening per week or if you'd like to be an alternate (someone who is called when the person scheduled is not available or is going away), please call Laurie Friel at 782-2711. Thank you.

DID YOU KNOW?

July is traditionally designated the "Month of the Precious Blood"? While devotion to the Precious Blood has waned in recent years, a Votive Mass of the Precious Blood is still included in the Roman Missal.

"Father, by the blood of your own Son you have set us free and saved us from death. Continue your work of love within us, that by constantly celebrating the mystery of our salvation we may reach the eternal life it promises. We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen."

FINDING TIME FOR GOD

Finding the right time to pray isn't as hard as it may seem. The question to ask yourself is, "When can I give God my whole attention?" Rising early might be an answer. Waiting until everyone else in the house has gone to bed is another ... or...perhaps you could give God your lunch break? Start with ten minutes a day. When you commit yourself to God at the same time everyday it becomes a habit. You'll be surprised how much you'll look forward to your time alone with God!

JULY 7, 2013

TODAY'S GOSPEL opens with Jesus looking over the crowds of people. He is filled with compassion for them. They are "harassed and helpless" like sheep without a shepherd. Things have not changed that much. So many today are still harassed by various forces and helpless, drifting without any real direction in their lives.

The harvest is indeed plentiful, right on our own doorstep. Undoubtedly, the laborers, too, are few. That does not just mean that we do not have enough priests, brothers and sisters. The call to be a harvester is being made to every single follower of Christ. It is being made to every single person here. The way each one of us does harvesting depends on the circumstances of our life: our family situation, work situation, education, personality and temperament, and so on.

One way we can ask the Lord to send laborers into his harvest is for each one of us to say to him: "Here I am, Lord. Send me." So often we pray for "vocations" but we do so in a very narrow way as if the only vocation was to be a priest or religious. Today, let us hear the call made to ourselves and reflect on how we can answer.

In today's Gospel Jesus picked out twelve of his disciples and gave them authority over unclean spirits, to liberate people from them and to heal every disease and sickness. Notice that the mandate is not just 'religious'. It is for both spiritual and physical healing, the making whole of the complete person at every level. These disciples are called "apostles". It may surprise us that this is the only time this word is used in Matthew's gospel. A disciple is basically a follower, someone who learns from a master and becomes more and more like him. The word 'apostle' is a more active word. It implies someone who is entrusted by his lord and master with carrying an important message to others. Obviously, of course, one has first to be a good disciple before becoming a reliable apostle.

The apostles are to show the nearness of the Kingdom by curing the sick, the dead, cleansing lepers, casting out demons. These are all signs of God's loving power reaching deep into people's lives. In modern terms that could mean: Bringing healing into people's lives. People can be sick in many ways, and not just physically. We can all be agents for bringing healing and wholeness back into people's lives, especially those we come in contact with. We cannot literally raise people from the dead. We can, however, help people to recover an interest and zest for living. People can be physically alive but dead in many other respects. Cleanse lepers. For us, that is to rehabilitate and bring back fully into our communities all those who, for one reason or another, are marginalized, rejected, despised, ostracized on the basis of race, nationality, marital status, religion, gender... Cast out demons. In our day demons are all those suffocating and enslaving forces which dominate, manipulate and restrict our freedom to live in truth and love.

Finally, says Jesus, "You received without payment; give without payment." Yes, all that we have are God's gift to us. God's gifts to us are literally price-less. They are meant to be used freely and liberally for the benefit of all. We are not in the business of sharing our faith for the money or the kudos it brings. To paraphrase President John Kennedy: "Ask not what others can do for you; but what you can do for others."

Prayer for Vocations

O gracious and loving Father, according to your word, the harvest is plentiful but the laborers are few. Send forth then, O most Holy Spirit, a calling to all the holy men and women of our community. Grant them the discernment to hear your softly spoken voice and the courage to answer your call. Give them the wisdom to realize the precious gift of consecrated life.

Shine forth your heavenly light upon the paths that you have chosen for all your beloved children. Open the doors that need to be opened and close the doors of worldly allurements and distractions that need to be closed. Fill their hearts with a burning desire to please you. Bless them with the necessary grace to pursue the callings that you have placed upon their hearts.

Most of all, Lord, help them to know you, love you and serve you as you deserve to be known, loved and served. We ask this in your most holy name. Amen.

Saint Benedict

Feastday: July 11
480 - 547

St. Benedict, the Father of Western monasticism and brother of Scholastica, is considered the patron of speliolegists (cave explorers). He was born in Nursia, Italy and educated in Rome. He was repelled by the vices of the city and in about the year 500, fled to Enfide, thirty miles away. He decided to live the life of a hermit and settled at the mountainous Subiaco, where he lived in a cave for three years, fed by a monk named Romanus. Despite Benedict's desire for solitude, his holiness and austerities became known and he was asked to be their abbot by a community of monks at Vicovaro. He accepted, but when the monks resisted his strict rule and tried to poison him, he returned to Subiaco and became a center of spirituality and learning. He left suddenly, reportedly because of the efforts of a neighboring priest, Florentius, to undermine his work, and in about 525, settled at Monte Cassino. He destroyed a pagan temple to Apollo on its crest, brought the people of the neighboring area back to Christianity, and in about 530 began to build the monastery that was to be the birthplace of Western monasticism. Soon disciples again flocked to him as his reputation for holiness, wisdom, and miracles spread far and wide. He organized the monks into a single monastic community and wrote his famous Rule prescribing common sense, a life of moderate asceticism, prayer, study, and work, and community life under one superior. It stressed obedience, stability, zeal, and had the Divine Office as the center of monastic life; it was to affect spiritual and monastic life in the West for centuries to come. While ruling his monks (most of whom, including Benedict, were not ordained), he counseled rulers and Popes, ministered to the poor and destitute about him, and tried to repair the ravages of the Lombard Totila's invasion. He died at Monte Cassino on March 21st, 547 and was named patron protector of Europe by Pope Paul VI in 1964. His feast day is July 11.
