OCTOBER 16, 2011

FROM THE PASTOR...

As of this weekend, we are now officially on the "winter schedule" with only one Mass each weekend at St. Romuald's Chapel. Where did the summer go? Although we have been continuing to enjoy some summer-like weather, clearly it is Fall, and we will soon be counting the days to Christmas. Time sure flies!

Speaking of countdowns, as we have been indicating each week in our parish bulletin, it is now only six weeks until we begin use of the new translation of the Roman Missal. I hope that everyone has been taking a few moments each week to read the informative articles in the bulletin so that we can be well informed and ready for the change on the First Sunday of Advent. I would also like to announce a schedule change that will take place that weekend as well. Beginning on Saturday, November 26, the Saturday evening Mass will be at 4:30 PM. A number of parishioners have expressed an interest in the Saturday Mass being earlier than the present 5:30 PM and, after consultation with the parish staff, I have decided to make the change. Confessions will be 3:30 to 4:00 PM. Of course all the Mass intentions that have been scheduled for the Saturday evening Masses will carry over to the new time. This change will be permanent and year-round however, it will not affect the Saturday evening Mass at St. Romuald's during the summer season – I intend to keep the St. Romuald's Mass at 5:30 PM so that during the summer months you will have two options for Mass and, on a practical note, if one of the priests is away it will be possible for the other priest to celebrate both Masses if another priest is not available to fill in. I am making this announcement well in advance so that everyone can prepare to adjust their schedules accordingly and we can make a smooth transition.

ANNIVERSARY OF DEDICATION

This coming Saturday, October 22, is a significant date in the history of our parish. 78 years ago, on Sunday, October 22, 1933, our parish church was dedicated and placed under the protection of Saint Francis of Assisi by Father O'Rourke. Father O'Rourke, who immediately preceded Father Greenan as pastor of Saint Francis, oversaw the construction of the present church building, which was begun in 1932. An article from the diocesan newspaper, "The Providence Visitor" (as it was known at the time), dated September 24, 1936, notes that our parish church was recognized from the beginning as "one of the most attractive edifices in the diocese." The same Visitor article offers some wonderful details about our church: "The new edifice is in the style of the Medieval English country church and is built of native stone...The principal feature of the exterior is the tower on the left hand side of the front facade...Passing through the narthex one enters the nave, which is separated from the side aisles by arcades of moulded wooden column supporting massive wooden hammer beam trusses which span the width of the nave." From these beams, carved figures of the apostles look down on the congregation. For 78 years our beautiful parish church has stood as a beacon of faith, hope and charity in South County. Countless souls have been reborn in baptism within its walls, been instructed in the faith, worshiped Jesus living among us in the Blessed Sacrament, had their sins forgiven in our confessionals, and have been sent home to God through the Church's funeral rites. Our church is truly a sacred space, a small piece of our neighborhood set aside for God alone. As the mother church of South County, may it continue to be a house of prayer for all people.

The "Baby Bottle Boomerang" is used to fund Right to Life Services, a ministry (since 1979) that helps pregnant women, newborns, and toddlers throughout RI with material needs, referrals, and emergency baby food and formula. There will be collection receptacles at the entrances of the church and chapel.

WELCOMING THE NEW TRANSLATION OF THE MASS

A Six-Part Series

For the past several weeks, we have discussed the upcoming changes to the prayers of the Mass. As you know, beginning this fall, every English-speaking parish in the world will implement a more accurate translation of the Latin texts of the Mass. This week we reflect on changes to the Creed and the Sanctus or “Holy, Holy, Holy” prayer.

In the creed which follows the homily every Sunday, Catholics have grown accustomed to saying that Jesus is “one in being with the Father.” Unfortunately, that really isn’t precise enough. Because God is Lord over all and sustains all things in being, in a certain sense, everything is one in being with Him.

The eternal Son of God, who took on flesh in the person of the Jesus Christ does not share being with God in that way. Rather, He truly is God. Jesus is the same nature or substance as God. We therefore will say he is consubstantial with the Father—He is truly of the same substance.

This has profound implications for our lives. Jesus truly is God, and for that reason He alone can save us. This was hotly contested in the first centuries of the Church and ultimately decided at the Council of Nicea (325 AD) that Jesus was homoousios in Greek, consubstantiali in Latin and now in English consubstantial.

Finally, we will no longer say “We believe” but instead “I believe” which is a more accurate translation of the Latin Credo and better emphasizes that we individually assent to these saving truths. While taking some getting used to at first, these changes will help our prayer more accurately reflect what we believe.

In the Sanctus or “Holy, Holy, Holy” which forms an essential part of the Eucharistic prayer, we will no longer say “Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of power and might” but instead, “Holy, Holy, Holy Lord God of Hosts.” This refers to God’s sovereignty over the host of angels in Heaven. It is a more accurate translation of Isaiah 6:3 to which this part of the Mass refers.

We are acknowledging that the mighty God of Heaven, commander of the whole host of angels will come now to the altar in the Eucharist. It is truly a heavenly banquet at which the angels and saints are present, praising God and interceding for us.

These changes should help us more deeply understand what is going on at Mass—the most important event in the world, the source and summit of our Christian life.

Next week we will consider two more changes coming this fall. To learn more about them, please visit the diocesan website designed for that purpose www.riliturgy.com.
